IMPORTANT LEGAL DISCLAIMER

NurseNow is a technology-enabled healthcare facilitation platform that connects patients with qualified nursing professionals for home healthcare services. NurseNow does not replace hospitals, emergency medical services, or physician consultation.

By using the NurseNow application, all users, including patients and nursing professionals, agree to comply with these Terms & Conditions, Privacy Policy, applicable Indian laws, and medical ethical standards.

These Terms are drafted in accordance with:

- The Constitution of India
- The Indian Contract Act, 1872
- Information Technology Act, 2000
- Consumer Protection Act, 2019
- Clinical Establishments (Registration and Regulation) Act, 2010
- Indian Nursing Council standards and applicable State Nursing Council rules
- Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023
- Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), 2023 and applicable criminal laws

Users are advised to obtain independent legal review before operational implementation.

PART A – TERMS & CONDITIONS FOR PATIENTS / USERS

1. Definitions

- “Platform” means the NurseNow mobile application and website.
- “Patient” means any person booking healthcare or nursing services through NurseNow.

- “Nurse” means a registered nursing professional associated with NurseNow.
 - “Services” include home nursing care such as IV injections, IM injections, catheterization, suture/stitch removal, wound dressing, elderly care, post-operative care, and other approved nursing procedures.

2. Eligibility

By using NurseNow, the patient confirms that:

- They are at least 18 years old or acting under supervision of a legal guardian.
 - All information provided is true and accurate.
 - They will not misuse healthcare services.
 - They understand that emergency services are not provided through the platform.

3. Nature of Services

NurseNow only facilitates healthcare-at-home services through qualified nursing professionals.

The platform:

- Does not guarantee cure or recovery.
- Does not provide emergency ambulance services.
- Does not replace doctor consultation or hospitalization.
- Does not prescribe medicines.
- Does not permit nurses to perform procedures beyond their legal scope of practice.

Patients are advised to consult a licensed medical practitioner before booking medical procedures.

4. Booking and Consent

By booking a service, the patient confirms that:

- They voluntarily requested the service.
- They have disclosed complete medical history.
- They understand possible risks and complications.
- They consent to treatment at home.
- They understand outcomes may vary depending on health conditions.

Patients must provide:

- Valid identity proof when requested

- Doctor's prescription wherever legally required
- Safe and hygienic working environment for nurses

NurseNow reserves the right to reject any booking without explanation where safety or legality concerns exist.

5. Medical Emergencies

Patients acknowledge that:

- NurseNow is NOT an emergency response platform.
- In cases of chest pain, unconsciousness, stroke, severe bleeding, breathing difficulty, seizures, trauma, or cardiac arrest, patients must immediately contact:
 - 108 Ambulance Services
 - Nearby hospital
 - Emergency physician

NurseNow shall not be liable for delays or consequences arising from emergency situations.

6. Patient Responsibilities

Patients shall:

- Treat nurses respectfully and professionally.
- Maintain cleanliness and safety at the service location.
- Avoid abusive, violent, intoxicated, or sexually inappropriate behavior.
- Ensure pets or dangerous conditions do not threaten staff safety.
- Provide accurate medical history.
- Arrange necessary medical equipment and prescribed medicines.

The nurse may discontinue services if the environment is unsafe.

7. Limitation of Medical Liability

NurseNow and associated nurses shall not be held liable for:

- Hidden medical conditions undisclosed by patient
- Allergic reactions not previously disclosed
- Complications arising from patient negligence
- Failure to follow medical advice
- Improper self-medication
- Delay in seeking hospital care

- Force majeure events including natural disasters, riots, internet failures, strikes, or government restrictions

Certain procedures inherently carry medical risks, including infection, bleeding, swelling, pain, allergic reactions, or treatment failure.

8. Payment Terms

- Service charges shall be displayed before booking.
- Payments may be collected online or via approved payment methods.
- Extra charges may apply for emergency timing, distance, consumables, or waiting time.
- Payments once completed may be non-refundable after service initiation.

Refunds, if applicable, shall be processed according to NurseNow Refund Policy.

9. Cancellation Policy

Patients may cancel bookings subject to cancellation charges.

NurseNow may cancel or reschedule bookings due to:

- Nurse unavailability
- Unsafe conditions
- Technical issues
- Suspected misuse or illegal activity

Repeated false bookings may lead to account suspension.

10. Privacy and Confidentiality

Patient medical information shall be handled in accordance with applicable Indian privacy laws.

NurseNow may collect:

- Name
- Contact information

 - Police complaint
 - Legal proceedings

13. Intellectual Property

The NurseNow logo, application, design, trademarks, and content are exclusive property of NurseNow.

Unauthorized copying or misuse is prohibited.

14. Indemnification

Patients agree to indemnify and hold harmless NurseNow, its directors, employees, and nurses from any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or legal expenses arising from:

- False medical information
 - Violation of law
 - Misconduct
 - Unsafe conditions
 - Breach of these Terms

15. Dispute Resolution and Jurisdiction

Any disputes shall first be resolved through mediation.

If unresolved, disputes shall fall under jurisdiction of courts located in [Insert City, State], India.

Applicable law shall be Indian law.

16. Account Suspension

NurseNow may suspend or terminate patient accounts for:

- Fraudulent activity
 - Abuse of staff
 - Criminal behavior
 - Non-payment
 - Repeated cancellation misuse
 - Violation of policies

17. Modification of Terms

NurseNow reserves the right to modify these Terms at any time.

Continued use of the platform constitutes acceptance of revised Terms.
